NARRAGANSETT PIER, R. L., June 22 .-The excessive heat since Sunday has been the cause of driving many here from the cities who did not intend to leave town before June 25. Tuesday was the hottest ever known at the Pier, the mercury registering 94 degrees in the shade at 3 P. M. An offshore breeze brought the heat in great waves from the tilled fields of the Narragansett country. Bathing took a sudden boom, and everybody who could get to the water did so, the temperature of the sea being 64 degrees. or but three degrees below the average of

A novel experience was enjoyed by the early comers on Tuesday. It was a veritable hover of insects. Just after 2 o'clock in the on there was observed to be a dark quite low over the ocean and looked like thin moke. It proved to be composed of millions the quadruple-winged gadfiles so familiar o those who angle about the shores of country ponds. The immense files estited upon the telephone and telegraph wires in fantastic figures. They alighted upon the trees and decorated them in gorgeous colors and new at and around the pedestrians in a way well calculated to make the nervous shrick and run for cover. The brilliant-hued creatures flew about for hours and the end of the procession seemed as distant as ever, but there was a general clearing up of the smaller insects which intest the air.

Prof. Irving Fisher, who is to be wedded to Miss Margaret Harard at Peacedale next saturday, will give a dinner to five gentle. ry ponds. The immense flies settled upon

Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Tyson, of Baltimore, will visit Chicago before coming to the Pier, and so will probably not arrive here until the second week in August.

Among those at Green's Inn are John B. Leech and wife, George H. Owen, Dr. John H. French and Mrs. J. L. Lawrence and Miss. Lawrence, of New York: H. Johnson and wife, of Boston; Miss Huntley, of Harttord; william c. Lamman and wife. Mrs. Edwin S. Ely, Miss May Grosvenor Ely. of Norwich, Coon; Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Dews and Miss Louise Dews, of Providence.

The Revere is promised an early and a great season. There is hardly a room in the house that is not engayed, and the spare ones will be booked before the week is out. The house opens on Saturday, and among the guests will be Mrs. Harriet Lane Johnston, the niece of President Buchanan, once lady of the White House. She has taken an extensive suit of rooms and will have three in her party. There will also be Miss Kate Hogers, Mrs. H. J. Slocum, Mrs. Battus, the mother of the novelist, all of New York: Miss Nanny Belt, Mrs. Joseph Pennington, wo song and wille, Mrs. Joseph Pennington, while the Miss Mrs. H. M. Edmund Slicer, the Yorkshire inventor whose mysterious disappearance June 13 and equally mys erious return Wednesday were reported exclusively in The World, is still in a seriously dangerous condition from the effects of drugs. In spite of all efforts his friends have been able to get from him only a few disconnected statements that give little clue to his supposed abductors. His friends believe he has been subjected to outrageous treatment on the part of a gang of thugs, and are determined to spare nothing in the attempt to run the gang down.
